

Dear Grange Community,

Happy Diwali. It has been wonderful celebrating the light, happiness and friendship of Diwali at Grange today. The Mufti day has meant that we have witnessed the most beautiful and wonderful traditional dress which has illuminated the school.

Our incredible PTA have made Ladoos and the feedback from the children was wonderful. They loved the ladoos and a new staff member joyously told me that this is the first time she had tasted a ladoo! We are so blessed to live with such rich diversity at Grange. May our joy in sharing each other's traditions and celebrations bring more peace, harmony and light into the world.

We have had some wonderful trips this week and these trips bring learning to life. The Yr 6 children enjoyed the RAF museum trip and the Diwali workshops were amazing. Please forgive me for not mentioning all the wonderful trips and workshops going on. We are also so proud to be really emphasising outdoor learning this year at Grange and it is becoming quite usual to see children doing Maths in the playground.

Next week Thursday, the new Grange parents will benefit from a welcome to Grange workshop which was an idea generated from feedback and we aim to keep working on valuing the feedback Parents and Carers give us.

Hot Chocolate Heroes today brought their brilliant insight to our end of the week Grange tradition and my favourite contributions (explaining what motivates them to make good choices) were relying on my CC power and remembering to value my own answer and not always worry about what other people's answer is.

CC salute and wishing all a safe and happy weekend.
